Essential Articles of Diet Under Government Control

Food Administration Will License Their Manufacture, Storage, Importation and Distribution—Small Dealers and Farmers Exempt.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Government control of foodstuffs is extended to take in virtually all the essential articles of diet by a proclamation issued today by President Wilson directing the food administration to license, after Nov. 1 the manufacture, storage, importation and distribution of some twenty prime commodities. Many small dealers are exempted as are farmers who were especially excepted in the food control law.

The move was forecast in a statement last night by the food administration declaring it was necessary to prevent unreasonable profits and to stop hoarding and speculation.

After quoting the food control act under which the action is taken, the president's proclamation says:

War News Summarized

As is customary after the attainment of the objectives of his drives, Field Marshal Haig on Wednesday permitted the British troops in Flanders to have a breathing spell while consolidating their gains of Tuesday along the Ypres front. Likewise the French forces on the British left flank were busily engaged in organizing their newly won positions.

A heavy rain fell during the day and no attempts at strong attacks were made by either side, altho at various points there were small forays in the nature of line straightening operations by the British and French and weak attempts at counter offensive on the part of the Germans. These latter movements all were repulsed and the allies held the ground they won in Tuesday's offensive.

Along the right bank of the Meuse in the Verdun sector the Germans north of the Boisse la Chaume following a violent bombardment attacked the French line and penetrated it at several points but were kept from proceeding farther by the fire of General Petain's artillery.

In the Austro-Italian theater the Austrians attempted to gain ground against the Italians on the Carso plateau, but in the furious fighting they were worsted, suffering heavy casualties. Along the Bainsizza plateau lively artillery duels again are in progress.

Considerable activity, both by the artillery and the infantry, continues on the Riga front in the North Russia fighting zone. Southeast of the Spitall farm the Germans have violently bombarded Russian positions. In the middle sector of this front the duels have reached considerable proportions to the north of Lake Mladzil.

Peace is impossible according to a statement of the imperial German chancellor, so long as Germany's antagonists demand German soil or try to separate the people from their emperor. The German foreign secretary in an address to the reichstag asserted that there was no impediment to peace that could not be overcome by negotiations except the demand of France for the return of Alsace-Lorraine.

The news has leaked out recently there was a mutiny on four battleships of the German fleet at Wilhelmshaven, the captain of one of which was thrown overboard and drowned. The sailors later surrendered and a number of them are said to have been shot, while others were sentenced to long terms of imprisonment.

Mr. Clark died five days after the riots from injuries received during the outbreak. Mrs. Clark was a witness for the state in the trial of Herbert Keane, charged with the murder of Clark. Keane is 17 years old.

Mrs. Clark said that during the rioting she and her husband took refuge in the circuit court here today. The house was set on fire, she said, and when the flames made it impossible for them to stay there they slipped into another house occupied by negroes.

Again the fire drove them out, and they ran to the railroad tracks. There, she said, a militiaman stopped them and said he would protect them.

As they passed an alley where the body of a negro was hanging from a pole, she testified, they were attacked by the white mob. Mrs. Clark said she was struck first and then her husband was knocked down with an iron bar and a rope was placed about his neck. She said the guardsman did not attempt to protect them from the mob. She ran to the Eads bridge where she joined a party of negroes that guardsmen were taking to St. Louis, Mo.

SHEDS FURTHER LIGHT ON GERMAN INTRIGUES

Attempted to Arrange Destruction of Canadian Railroads

Cablegrams Made Public by Secretary Lansing Disclose that Conspiracies Existed in This Country at Least a Year Before Declaration of War.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Secretary Lansing drew upon his collection of secret German diplomatic correspondence again today to shed further light on what the German foreign office and general staff were doing in this country while nominally at peace with the United States.

He gave to the public without comment as usual three cablegrams, disclosing that more than a year before submarine piracy drove America to war the Berlin government was instructing Ambassador Von Bernstorff to arrange for destruction of Canadian railroads and to use Irish-Americans in carrying on sabotage in their own country. They showed too, that Bernstorff on his part was even at that early date seeking authority to support a campaign to influence congress.

Of the three men mentioned in one of the messages Joseph MacCarthy is a prominent Irish leader of Philadelphia and Jeremiah O'Leary besides heading the American Truth Society, is editor of Bull, a publication recently barred from the mail as seditious. While no one at the state department would undertake to identify the John P. Keating, it was assumed that the man referred to was John T. Keating of Chicago.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE AT BARKER INQUEST

Murder Theory Held by Family Collapses Under Testimony Given at Hearing.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 10.—Members of the Barker family had not determined tonight whether they would probe further their conviction that Jesse Barker, millionaire, was murdered Sunday afternoon. The coroner's jury this afternoon brought in a verdict of suicide. The strong murder theory of the family collapsed when Charles Heer, Barker's chauffeur testified that he had found a mark on the floor of the bathroom where the bullet rebounded and G. N. Portman, gun expert, had testified that if the revolver was pressed against the temple there would be no powder burn on the face for the bullet would follow the bullet inside. Dr. R. A. Hanna, the physician called, had previously testified that there were powder burns just inside the ragged edge of the wound. The family based their murder theory on the fact that no bullet marks could be found in bathroom where the body was found and there were no marks on the face. The will of Barker was filed this afternoon, in which he leaves the income of his entire estate of $2,315,000 to his wife, who does not marry. If she remarries she forfeits it. He provides for the care of her daughter by a previous marriage and leaves her a wedding present of $25,000. This child is presumed to have been the cause of the marital difficulties of the couple culminating in Mrs. Barker's divorce suit. The infant daughter for possession of whom the couple were fighting, must be raised in Peoria and educated north of the Ohio river, according to terms of the will. Mrs. Barker is from Louisville, Ky.

MOST ENCOURAGING SIGN OF YEAR FOR ALLIES

Amsterdam Report Tells of Revolt in German Navy

American Officers Insist if There is Discontent Among Sailors That There Must Be Even Greater Discontent in the Army.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Few despatches since the war began have created more interest at the navy department than today's report from Amsterdam telling of a revolt in the German navy. Officers unhesitatingly declared that the story, so far not confirmed in official reports, was one of the most encouraging signs of the year for the allies, and probably one of the most ominous from the German view. They pointed out that while the allied powers have noted repeatedly, recently, in their official statements that the morale of the German troops was declining and observers have believed that the end would come in food and labor riots, or perhaps in a political revolt, there has been nothing to suggest that the iron discipline of the German military system had lost its hold over the fighting millions in the slightest degree.

The declining morale noted on the western front it was said has shown itself in the feeble character of counter-attacks as compared to the all but irresistible drive a year ago. Repeated assaults have dashed themselves to pieces before the French and British trenches.

The revolt in the navy, these officers said, was a more serious matter for Germany. The sailors generally have not been subjected to the battering of the guns day after day and month after month. They insisted that if there is discontent among the sailors with their condition, it must be even greater in the army.

As one possible explanation of the navy revolt they pointed out that ever since submarine warfare was started by the Germans, the British have adopted the consistent policy of suppressing information as to the fate of submarines sent to the bottom by their patrols. The policy was adopted as a deliberate method of breaking down the morale of the submarine crews.

Crews for the U-boats are understood to be drafted from the high seas fleet as needed. The big ships are practically idle. They have done little since the North Sea fight but steam out to target practice behind mine protected zones. For the men of the ships there has been little but the deadly routine of this business, varied only by calls for duty and probable death on the submarines.

THE CONSUMER MOST INTERESTED.

The producer in all this discussion about prices for food, fuel and other of life's necessities quite naturally seems to think that it is his interests which should be carefully guarded, but really it is the rights of the consumer which must have the greatest consideration. If he were only able to stop "consuming" for a while the whole question of prices of necessities would take care of itself.

VIOLATING A PHYSICAL LAW.

The Christian Science Monitor suggests that the St. Louis professor who announced that he will soon prove that the generally accepted physical law of gravitation is no law at all, has sensed the feeling of many people just now. They have been there believers in this law of gravity and that "whatever goes up must come down" but in watching the prices of commodities have had their theories entirely upset. These prices continue to climb and climb, with not indication of following the time honored gravitation law.

WHO WILL REFUSE THIS APPEAL?

The Food Administration (Mr. Hoover's department) makes this urgent appeal to the people of Illinois:

"All the blood, all the heroism, all the money, and all the munitions in the world will not win this war unless our allies and the people behind them are fed."

"They will not be fed, your sacrifice of blood and money will be in vain, we shall go hungry and a great cause will be lost unless you stand guard each day in your home over your supply of wheat, meat, fats, sugar and milk."

LUXURIES ONCE, NOW NECESSARIES.

When we contemplate how large a part electricity now plays in every day life and how seemingly necessary it is to our present day civilization, it is difficult to realize that it was only thirty five years ago that electric lights were introduced into New York City. That important anniversary is now being observed in the great eastern metropolis. People nowadays accept so many conveniences as a mere matter of course that it is really worth while to occasionally stop and take the backward look into other days not very far removed, when the conveniences we now have were wholly unknown. Electric lights, telephones, automobiles are only a few of the things that were at first considered luxuries and then with speedy development became necessities of our every day life.

While the developments with electricity have been marvelous, growth and changes have by no means been confined to that field and a Rip Van Winkle returning today would find such mighty changes had taken place during his absence that he would certainly die from shock.

CONVERTING BONDS.

The Treasury Department intends in the very near future to issue a circular setting forth the method to be used in converting fifteen thirty three and one half per cent Liberty Loan bonds into fifteen thirty year four per cent bonds, in response to numerous requests as to how the conversion should be undertaken.

The terms of the three and one half per cent bonds require that an interest adjustment be made on each and every bond converted. The Treasury Department has devised a way whereby this adjustment of interest can, in a large measure, be made without the actual payment of any cash by the holder of the bond to the government, or vice versa.

Holders of the three and one half per cent bonds are reminded that the date of issue of the new bonds into which their bonds will be convertible, is November 15, and that no conversions can be actually accomplished prior to that date. An opportunity will be given, however, Mr. McAdoo said, to the holders of the three and one half per cent bonds to deposit their bonds for conversion several weeks in advance of the actual date of issue.

LABOR ADMINISTRATION NEEDED.

This is not the time for criticism of the government but there is a great deal of truth in the statement that there is almost as much need now for an administrator of labor as for a food administrator. The government plan of letting enormous building contracts on a basis of "cost plus a 10 per cent profit" has resulted in workers leaving factories, mines and farms to take the high wages offered at the army cantonments. Wages of $6 a day for ordinary labor are not unusual at these cantonments and inevitably the government has thus come into competition with citizens in this matter of labor.

The man who has a contract for building work on the "cost-plus" plan can readily afford to pay high wages, for the more money he spends the greater will be his profit. This matter of controlling commodities and fixing prices has just begun, for the principle it applied to some lines in which the public is interested, is inevitably going to be applied to others. The opportunity to secure labor in many instances is just about equivalent to the opportunity of securing food.

NOTES ON THE WAR.

The British "tanks" carry pigeons for sending out messages in case of need.

Seven hundred thousand fewer births took place in Germany last year than in 1914.

Australia, with a population of 5,000,000, has contributed nearly $350,000,000 to the cost of the war.

There have been more people killed by street accidents in London since the war began than by air raids.

Australia proposes to impose an additional income tax of 10 per cent on single men and childless widows between 21 and 45 who have not yet enlisted.

The soldiers at present fighting through the world number more than the entire combined populations of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Scotland and Ireland.

Included in an exhibition of war photographs in London is one said to be the largest photograph in the world. It is 22 feet long, 11 feet high and was taken at Vimy Ridge.

It is stated that Germany and Austria use more aluminum for war purposes than all the other belligerents combined. It is known, in fact, that Germany has for some years been collecting and storing the metal for war uses, and the majority of the drinking cups and cans of the German soldier are made of the light metal. The frames of Zeppelins and the fuses for shells are also made from the aluminum.

OVER DOING SYSTEM.

An exchange in commenting upon the complicated system in vogue in England now tells of a man who went thru a long search for a friend in one of the government offices, was informed that the man was not employed there and subsequently met him in the hallway. This was the comment:

"The card index system bids fair to have a serious rival in a certain government office, in England. If the accounts of a recent sufferer are to be credited, He went up to London to seek a friend in this office, and, after being conducted all over the building, by three different messengers, apparently following a carefully planned system, he was told that there was no such person in the building. He retired, discomfited, but shortly afterwards met the man he was in search of, in the Strand. The one sought had been in the building all the time. 'But, you know, old man,' he said, 'on hearing the story, it's much better to rely on meeting me casually, like this. We work so much on 'system' over there.'"

This incident really means that while system is a mighty fine thing, it can easily be overdone. Businesses are not unknown that have been systematized to death. Where employees are required to make such minute records of their work that production is cut down, or where an excessive amount of record keeping entails a useless amount of book work, system is worse than lack of system. It some times happens that a business with a very elaborate set of records is run with a daily loss. So for individuals and for business concerns a middle ground must be chosen and the card index or the "system" must be made to accord with the necessary record details instead of making the details conform to the record plan.

A TIME FOR EVIDENCE.

Some farmers, it is said, in talking about the proposed crop improvement association do not talk kindly to the words "farm advisor." They rightly feel that because of the years of experience and understanding of local conditions that they know a great deal about farming methods themselves. Perhaps it would be better to use the term county agent, for those who are familiar with crop improvement work which the government is fostering know that it is the function of an agricultural agent to give opinions when asked. The government wisely requires that in the employment of an advisor or agent that a man with both university training and several years of practical farming experience must be employed. The agent or advisor would not come to this county with any "know it all" attitude but would come for conference with farmers, to study local soils and conditions and then to tell farmers his opinion on any desired question of agriculture or animal husbandry.

There really is nothing wrong with the term "county advisor" and the farmer who thoroughly understands the proposition and who knows how complex farming operations have become these days, will certainly not object to conference with a man who has made a special study of farm problems.

THE INVINCIBILITY MYTH.

(Saturday Post.)

For more than forty years after Sedan no traveler from any other land published his impressions of Germany without mentioning that it had the best army in the world. In August, 1914, Germany probably did have the best drilled and equipped land force in Europe. But more military history has been made since that date than in the century between Waterloo and the violation of Belgium. It is rather doubtful that the German army, man for man is now the equal in morale and equipment of the French and British. It is simply absurd, in the face of what has happened since the Crown Prince launched his attack upon Verdun, to impute superiority to the Kaiser's troops.

But a tradition carefully inculcated at home and abroad for forty years dies hard. Every now and then we meet an American who shakes his head lugubriously over German invincibility on land.

Superiority in drill, morale and equipment should give an army a decided tactical advantage. Its workmanship should be superior. In executing a given strategic movement it should carry out the plan with greater precision and soldierly competence. But there was no inferiority in French tactics at the crucial Battle of Marne.

Three years of intensive training under conditions of actual warfare will do more to make an army than any amount of drill with blank cartridges. The troops opposed to Germany in France are now as well drilled in every respect as the enemy. Imputing invincibility to the German army amounts simply to subscribing to the Kaiser's amiable theory that Germans are an inherently superior race. That is all the Kaiser asks of anybody.

Germany's location gives it an important strategic advantage. It derives a moral advantage to which it is not entitled, from everybody among its enemies who talks about its invincibility.

IT'S UP TO YOU!

By Porter Emerson Browne
Of The Vigilantes

Our country is at war with Germany.

Hundreds of thousands of men are making ready to cross the seas and lay down their lives if need be in defense of their country's honor—their country's life. Hundreds of thousands of other men and women, stand ready to do all that lies in their power to aid those who are to fight at the front.

And meanwhile a few thousands of men calling themselves American, led by a few scores of men who, too, call themselves American, are doing all they can to impede, to delay, to ruin and to wreck the cause for which all these others are fighting.

It is as though you and I were fighting for our homes, and for our children. A third man, pretending to be our friend, holds back our fists, thrusts sticks between our feet, casts pepper in our eyes, and does everything in his power to destroy the effectiveness of our endeavors.

Truly that man is no friend of ours. Truly he belongs upon the other side, with our enemies. For everything he does to impede us, helps them. Every move he makes, that renders us more ineffective, makes them more effective. Only a fool could argue such a point.

I don't know whether Senator La Follette, Morris Hillquit, Justice Co-halan, George Sylvester Viereck et al. are Judas Iscariots, Benedict Arnolds or Harry Kendall Thaws. I don't care which they are. But I know they are a menace to the American nation. And I ask you, is it fair to allow these men to ply their rotten trade among the American people while, at the same time, they are sending their boys to the front to fight their open enemies?

Are you going to ask your boys to fight an enemy in the open while, at the same time, you leave another enemy hidden behind him to stab him in the back? Is that fair, do you think?

You don't? . . . All right, then, what are you going to do about it? It's up to you.

Military Training in Foreign Countries.

A bulletin on the military training plans of the various nations, soon to be published by the Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior, shows the widest variation in type of training for boys of school age. Great Britain, altho she has resorted to conscription in the present war, has not had military training for boys of school age except in the nature of strictly voluntary work carried on by private agencies. Australia makes military training compulsory for all boys 12 to 18 years of age, and New Zealand for boys over 14 years. In Germany before the war the only military training for boys of school age was by voluntary organizations and was without arms. Decrees issued during the war have provided, however, for preparatory military training for all boys over 16 years of age. The following is a brief statement of the practice in 20 of the nations of the world. Many of the statements have been obtained directly from the embassies or legations of the nations concerned.

British Empire.—Great Britain—Strictly voluntary work carried on by private agencies.

Australia.—Military instruction compulsory for all boys from 12 to 18 years.

New Zealand.—Military instruction carried on in voluntary cadet corps.

Germany.—Voluntary organizations of older public pupils and students of secondary schools. Training without arms. Decrees issued during the war provide for preparatory military training of all boys over 16 years of age.

Austria-Hungary.—Austria—Voluntary organizations for military training of pupils of secondary schools, under government protectorate. Optional rifle practice in the last two years of secondary schools.

Hungary.—Voluntary organizations in elementary, secondary, and higher schools. In many districts military instruction is obligatory in secondary schools.

Switzerland.—Instruction in military gymnastics in elementary schools obligatory through the school age. Conducted by specially trained instructors. Voluntary rifle practice and military drill both with and without arms.

Sweden.—Compulsory rifle practice in public secondary schools for boys from 15 to 18 years of age. Given by special instructors.

Norway.—Voluntary rifle practice.

Italy.—Military training given as obligatory subject in "national colleges".

Private agencies provide for simple military drill for younger boys.

Spain.—No distinct military training is given. Some simple drill is included in the program of physical training.

Portugal.—No military training is given in schools. The subject of "physical culture", which is taught generally, includes simple drill without arms. Boy scout organizations are numerous.

Russia.—Prescribed military gymnastics in elementary and secondary schools.

Netherlands.—Military training given in voluntary organizations for boys over 15 years of age.

Greece.—Very intensive military instruction is given in gymnasia, under the patronage of the King. Simple drill obtains in all public schools in connection with physical training.

Japan.—Military gymnastics obligatory in elementary, secondary, and normal schools.

Mexico.—Obligatory military drill with arms in all primary and secondary schools. Regulated by state laws.

Argentina.—Obligatory military training in the last two years of secondary schools. Specially trained instructors.

Bolivia.—Simple drill in connection with gymnastics.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

THE DAY OF PEACE

The war will end some blessed day, some day the strife will cease; the kings will put their guns away, and boost the boon of peace. The captains then will drop the tools which made the world forlorn, and drive their teams of sorrel mules along the rows of corn. While still the tide of battle rolls, while still we hear the din, it seems to countless weary souls that war has always been. Three years, they say, the strife has raged, across the morning seas, but it would seem that war's been waged for three eternities. The days that reek of blood and tears pass slowly over the stage; to weary hearts three gory years become an endless age. We're looking forward to the day when peace with honor comes, when kings will put their swords away, and soak their battle drums. I long to see the colonels drop their shining snickersneers, and buckle down to raise a crop of beans and early peas. I long to see field marshals hang their batons on a nail, and then get busy with the gang to earn some bloodless kale.

Social Events

Mrs. Bradley Entertained.—Past Noble Grand Club. Mrs. George R. Bradley was hostess to the Past Noble Grand's club of Caritas Lodge No. 625 Rebekahs at her home 223 West College avenue Wednesday afternoon. The time was spent in knitting for the Red Cross. The club has only been meeting once each month but probably will meet oftener for the purpose of doing Red Cross work. This was one of the first fraternal organizations to take up Red Cross work and a number of the members visit the Red Cross shop regularly and assist in making surgical dressings. Refreshments have been dispensed with at the meetings because of the time required to serve and also to assist in the food preservation plan of the government.

Matys and Marthas Social.—The Matys and Marthas of Grace church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hill, 407 W. College avenue for the monthly social. The attendance was good. The program included several musical numbers and an instructive and helpful talk by Miss Robertson of the Hanley-Fisher Evangelistic party. A social hour followed, the ladies knitting for the Red Cross.

PLAYING GOOD BALL.
"Windy" Lotshaw who was with Jacksonville in the old Kitty league is still playing ball and according to an Indianapolis paper playing good ball. He finished the season with the Indianapolis team and in one of the important games drove in a run and laid down a clever sacrifice. Windy despite his vocal ability could play ball and was always dangerous, being liable to hit one a mile any time. After leaving Jacksonville he played with Beards-town in the I. M. league but we had not heard from him recently and thought he was out of the game.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL SCRIMMAGE

Foot Ball Men Had Work Out Wednesday on Illinois Field.

Coach Harmon's Illinois college football team scrimmaged with Coach Hoover's high school team on Illinois field Wednesday afternoon.

Each team took turns at carrying the ball and the result was some excellent work for both teams on both offense and defense.

Coach Harmon's men are for the most part green material and have not yet played a game. However, the coach was well pleased with showing of his men yesterday. Whisler, Barnes and Duncomb showed up well in the backfield while Ferreira ran the team with good judgment.

Land, Curran, Cully and Cox were tried at ends, Underwood and Mackie at tackle and Andrews, Miller and Daigh at guards. Bronson was used at the center position.

Coach Harmon said last night that he was favorably impressed with the showing of the men. While it is not known what they will do in a game, Harmon is of the opinion that a real game will put more knowledge into the team than a month's coaching.

Illinois will leave on the Wabash this evening for Charleston where Eastern Normal will be played Friday afternoon. Harmon will take the following men: Bronson, Andrews, Miller, Daigh, Underwood, Mackie, Land, Curran, Cully, Ferreira, Duncomb, Whisler and Barnes.

Coach Hoover's men showed up especially strong in the Wednesday scrimmage. The team was particularly strong in forward passing and also has improved in running the ends since the Alton game.

What impresses one most with both the Illinois and high school teams is their weakness on defense. Both teams have a good attack and it is well developed. However, the men have as yet to learn to solve the attack of the enemy. The high school showed much better defensive work against the college than it did against the Alton team and bids fair to become a strong defensive team before the season closes. Coach Hoover's men will meet Carlinville high on the Illinois field Saturday.

WHITE HALL BANK HAS FINE DISPLAY OF CORN

Cash Prize to Be Awarded Best Five Ears Dec. 1—Rally Day at Baptist Church—Interesting Letters From Soldiers—Other News Notes.

White Hall, Oct. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Magnuson, of St. Louis, were week-end guests at the home of Alderman T. J. Grant, their visit including a trip to the McClay orchards, northwest of White Hall, in which they took intense interest. The visitors have apartments in the Buckingham Hotel in St. Louis, and this trip to the country was an inspiration.

Alonzo Ellis and Dr. A. C. Rich left Tuesday night for Chicago to attend the sessions of the Masonic grand lodge.

Dr. A. E. Meisenbach, of St. Louis, passed thru on the C. & A. Sunday evening on his way to Jacksonville in response to a professional call to Passavant hospital.

Rally Day will be observed at the First Baptist church next Sunday with special services. This church has a large membership, and is a very active and influential body when all the departments are revived for a season of effort. A feature of the services next Sunday is being prepared by Miss Emma Duncan, who is training her large chorus of men for a part of the program.

William Nettles, an old and quite well known resident of this community, died at noon Monday, and funeral services were held Wednesday. His age was about 75 years.

The People's Bank is collecting a magnificent display of samples of this season's crop of corn grown in this section. Recently Cashier Rose induced Louis Lowenstein to offer a cash prize of five dollars for the best five ears from this season's crop, and the proposition at once looked so good that George North covered Mr. Lowenstein's prize with ten dollars. These prizes have been augmented with additional prize offers from individuals until the inducement has been so great that an exceptionally large display of corn is promised. The judging will take place December 1st, and the prize money is to be turned over to the Red Cross, a condition of the contest.

New C. & A. Yard Clerk. Henry Wenken has been made yard clerk at the C. & A. here, the change coming about thru the recent resignation of Miss Olga Holcomb as station clerk and a rearrangement of the office force. Miss Holcomb left this week for her new home in Galesburg, after spending a week or so in Chicago.

Mrs. J. S. Pierce arrived home Monday evening from Hammond, Ind., where she spent the major part of the summer with her son, Ralph C. Pierce, of the Hammond Daily Times.

Mrs. Clarence Bradburn departed Tuesday for Hackensack, N. J., where she will remain with her parents, owing to the absence of her husband in France as a captain in the U. S. army.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McKenzie and little daughter of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, were guests at the Kendall home over Sunday.

Early Local Theatrical History. The visit to White Hall this week of A. J. Culver calls to the memory of older citizens a family that was once prominent in White Hall and influential in a high degree. Our visitor left White Hall thirty-nine years ago, and after residing in Nebraska for eight years proceeded to California, where he continued to reside until last spring, when he came out to Tulsa, Okla., for a temporary residence with his son Fred, expecting to return to California.

Mr. Culver was active in White Hall historic circles in an early day, when this community boasted of unusual quality and quantity of this kind of talent, the leaders of the local society of that date being on most cordial and intimate relations with the late Sol Smith Russell of Jacksonville. Many of the members of this band of literary geniuses have passed away, among whom may be mentioned: James Peters, Hardin W. Davis, Mrs. J. M. Swales, Capt. E. J. Pearce, Mrs. Elizabeth Wiggins, Dr. T. W. Pritchett. The survivors are few in number, including Dr. A. W. Foreman, G. R. Adams, R. L. White, Mrs. G. W. Secor and Mrs. C. W. Henry. Mr. Culver is recalling much local history of general interest. He relates that the local G. A. R. post was named in honor of his brother, D. G. Culver, who was killed in an action early in the Civil war, two weeks after leaving home with the 61st Illinois. His father, Dr. S. H. Culver, afterwards organized Company G of the 91st Illinois, and served as captain until he was taken prisoner, at which time he was succeeded by E. J. Pearce. Our subject says he was eulogized on a determination to enlist on account of his years, and he was left at home to tend his father's flock.

Post Office Department Offer. Joseph Lyman, a member of the White Hall drafted boys who are in training at Camp Taylor, Kentucky, has been offered a lucrative position in the post office department at Washington, and his home friends will evince keen interest in the result of the offer, as it would apparently affect his military training.

Letters From Soldiers. Interesting letters from soldier boys continue to be received here. From St. Louis papers it is shown that an unusual recognition has come to Mrs. A. E. Meisenbach, formerly Miss Mabel Pearce of White Hall, who has been named as one of fifty women of a class for war auto drivers. It is shown by newspaper reports that these women have been for the last five weeks studying the theory of automobile mechanism, assisting in the assembling and dissembling of machines in response to the recent appeal of the Red Cross for volunteer women automobile drivers.

Sergeant H. Dow McCracken writes from Camp Travis, Texas, as follows: "This is the day of our Lord, and I am resting from a very strenuous week's work. I look out of my office window and see thousands and thousands of men clad in khaki uniform, and still many more who have not been assigned to any organization and have not been uniformed. Yesterday I noticed several passenger coaches on the railroad side track that had been used to bring more soldiers to camp. The men are more cheerful than might be supposed altho at times one could be seen hunting some lonely spot to vent his grief or thoughts of home. This camp has a capacity of 45,000 to 50,000 men, and when they all arrive it will certainly be a great congregation of soldiers—business men, lawyers, artists, in fact from all the trades and professions. The food conditions are good, ample and wholesome. For dinner in my company we eat roast beef, brown gravy, canned corn, sliced tomatoes, sweet potatoes, radishes, cake and coffee. My but I do eat." McCracken was appointed in August as quartermaster-sergeant in the quartermaster corps and is now first sergeant of the school for bakers and cooks, one of the highest salaried positions offered enlisted men in the army.

Private Harry Lyons makes his weekly report from Camp Taylor, Kentucky, as follows: "We are singing, dancing and having a good time in general. If Postmaster Wyatt brings that bunch from White Hall before we leave I want to say that it will do us both a lot of good. The scenery down here is certainly grand, impressing me more than ever with the truth of the slogan: 'See America First'. If you are patriotic at all it will make your heart throb with patriotic impulse to see this camp. I stated before that we have a piano, and I can say that we have not yet allowed it any rest. You know those of us who have been around keg parties think we can sing, and when we get back we will try to entertain good old White Hall with a few of our selections. We raise the roof, so to speak, when we sing 'Good Bye, Broadway, Hello, France'. I'll bet ten to one that you fellows give us an encore when you come down and hear us. To be earnest, I want to repeat that we are being treated fine. We have good officers. You can not imagine how much good the letters from home do me and all the boys. We read them over and over, and over, and are longing for more of them. I get the Springfield News-Record and the Jacksonville Journal every day, and I give you and Mr. Postmaster credit for it."

Only 3 more days to do your Christmas shopping for the soldiers in France. Hurry with those Christmas bags.

ALL ON DRAFT LIST SOON TO BE EXAMINED

Early Announcement of Plans Expected from Washington—Will Lighten Work of Examiners—County Gets No Credit for Temporary Exemptions.

There were intimations from Washington two weeks ago that some changes would be made in regulations surrounding the selective draft, especially as related to physical examination. Early announcement of plans for the examination of the 7,000,000 men registered is expected. According to a Washington dispatch, one of the first changes likely to be made will be in abolishing the requirements for the physical examination of men who are known to be exempt from service. The Tribune story was as follows: "Plans for a simplification of the selective army machinery were decided upon at a conference tonight between Secretary of War Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder. 'The plans will be fully worked out and communicated to the 4,500 local boards throughout the country before further steps are taken to examine the 7,000,000 registrants remaining after the first levy of 687,000 men. Details of the changes in draft regulations to be made were not given out by Secretary Baker. The principal change is understood, however, to be the elimination of men clearly entitled to exemption before they are subjected to physical examination.

All Given Physical Tests. "For instance, when the first conscript levy was made all the registrants were called in order and subjected to physical examination. They were then permitted to file and prove up claims for exemption. 'The result of the first call was that 3,000,000 registrants were given physical examinations to get 687,000 men, though it was apparent that many examined would never be called to serve. 'Before the remaining 7,000,000 are examined, it is understood to be the plan to have local boards question men and take testimony as to their claims for exemption as a first step. The weeding out process can be carried on in this way before and after the boards' physicians have gone to the trouble of conducting an extended medical examination. Crowder Has Free Hand. "Secretary Baker said the action of congress in giving the provost marshal general an appropriation of $4,000,000, without restrictions as to its expenditure, authorized the department to proceed immediately with the remaining examinations. He indicated that the examinations would begin soon, but he was not prepared to set a date. 'No decision has been reached, Secretary Baker said, as to the date for calling out the second 500,000 selected men. 'No Credit for Temporary Discharge. The local board has received the following telegram from Provost Marshal General Crowder relative to temporary discharges: 'No. 8455. Local boards will not be given credit on quota for men who have temporary discharges. If the temporary discharge does not expire until after the sending of the first quota, such temporary discharges are tantamount to excusing the holders thereof from service as members of this quota, inasmuch as local boards must furnish full quota on days named. In such circumstances other men will have to be sent to camp who could not, except for these facts, belong to first quota. Great care should be exercised, therefore, in granting temporary discharges. (Signed) 'Crowder'

BUY LIBERTY BONDS AT HOME. The special campaign for the sale of Liberty bonds in this county is not yet under way but definite allotment of $600,000 has been made to Morgan county. No doubt the bankers will have something to say on this subject and will furnish the public with any desired information about these Liberty bonds. The purchase of the bonds affords an opportunity for an exceedingly high class investment and at the same time the doing of a loyal public service. Morgan county people should remember to buy Liberty bonds from Morgan county bankers. Every inducement and convenience in connection with the purchase of the bonds offered elsewhere will apply here. The definite allotment has been made for the county and it is the government's earnest desire that the bonds shall be widely distributed. The greater the number of bond purchases, the greater will be the number of persons financially interested in the conduct of the war.

McADOO REACHES COAST. Portland, Ore. Oct. 10.—Secretary McAdoo arrived in Portland today to speak in advocacy of the second Liberty loan bond issue. His arrival here marks the end of the first half of his itinerary. The return trip will cover a swing down the Pacific coast to San Francisco and Los Angeles. From the last named point Mr. McAdoo will return to the East by way of Salt Lake City, Denver and Chicago.

SONG SERVICE FEATURED AT REVIVAL WEDNESDAY

Choir Work Developing Nicely Under Mr. Fisher's Leadership—Dr. Hanley Gave Strong Sermon—Campaign Notes.

At the union revival meeting Wednesday night the choir made a splendid showing under the leadership of Fred Fisher. The song "It Pays to Serve Jesus," was heard with special interest and enthusiasm. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. L. Pletcher, district superintendent, and Evangelist Hanley spoke on the theme, "Ye Shall Receive Power." It was a sermon directed both to church members and those who are still without the church.

Dr. Hanley emphasized that it is the first duty of the man who would live a Christian life to get right with God for it follows naturally and easily that the man who is right with God gets right with the world. He emphasized the point too, that those who are really engaged in the Christian life are active. They want to do something and are not satisfied with the mere process of "sponging," absorbing all they can from the church relationship and giving nothing in return.

Those who heard Dr. Hanley last night were more than ever convinced of his strength and eloquence as a speaker and with the sincere earnestness of the man. Evidently during the coming weeks the people of Jacksonville are to hear the gospel fearlessly presented and in a way which will make direct appeal to both old and young for righteous living.

Notes. Announcement was made that the sermon theme of Evangelist Hanley, tonight will be "Spiritual Backbone." His theme for Friday night will be "Religion in the Home," and the service will be termed "family night" and parents are especially urged to bring their children for this service and to sit in family groups. A patriotic service has been planned for next Tuesday night with special reference to present war conditions.

At Glenwood, Minn., where Dr. Hanley and party recently concluded a revival, I. W. W. workers made an effort to interfere with the patriotic service planned in connection with the revival. There are a great many I. W. W. members resident in Glenwood but recent action of government officials has had a restraining effect on them.

This morning Dr. Hanley will speak to students of the high school at 8:45 and by invitation of President Rammelkamp will address Illinois college students at 9:30. Miss Mary A. Robertson will meet with group 12 at the cottage prayer meetings today. At the noon hour she will speak to employees of the Grand laundry. Miss Robertson was very busy Wednesday as she attended two neighborhood prayer meetings, later she addressed employees of the Capps factory and then spoke to members of the class of Marys and Marthas of the Grace church Sunday school. Still later in the day Miss Robertson was in conference with the ministers of the co-operating churches.

PLEDGE CARDS FOR FARM ADVISOR MOVEMENT. Pledge cards are now at all of the banks in Morgan county for the signature of farmers or landowners who are willing to join in the movement to secure a farm advisor for this county. To become a member of the Morgan county farmers club, which will become the crop improvement association of the county, and to secure an advisor, an annual fee of $10 must be paid for a period of three years. The card expressly states that no fee shall be paid unless a farm advisor is employed. As previously stated, the government is ready to provide $2,100 of funds for the employment of an advisor but will not furnish this money unless at least 300 persons in the county signify their willingness to join a crop improvement association. It is the belief of the government that unless 300 men are actively interested in a county of this size the crop improvement association will not result in a very large increase in production. If an advisor is secured his services will be available for every farmer and landowner but naturally those who belong to the association and provide the funds will have the first consideration.

CAMP TAYLOR NOTES

(Springfield Journal)

Many letters from the three states which send recruits here have been received asking if there is any truth to rumors of certain conditions and incidents at camp. In response to them, Maj. W. Krueger, assistant chief of staff, issued this statement: "There seems to be some misapprehension about the matter of news emanating from the cantonment for troops. No news is suppressed, except such as pertains to the movement of troops in general, experiment work, and description of appliances susceptible to use in war. Newspaper correspondents at camp are kept in touch with all that happens."

The letters sent home by men who are somewhat homesick, or who, having nothing exciting to write about, have drawn on their imaginations, are the bases for the false reports that have been circulated. It may be positively stated that the health at the camp is the very best, and that the men are nearly all of them, not only contented, but delighted both with the provisions made for them and with their work.

"It is the policy to give out every item of news in regard to individuals composing our forces," said Major Krueger.

MATRIMONIAL

Schnepf-Wiegand

Harold Lawrence Schnepf of Springfield and Miss Alma Louise Wiegand of this city were united in marriage at the parsonage of Salem Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The ceremony was said by the Rev. J. G. Kuppler, pastor of the church and was witnessed by only immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. They were attended by Ray H. Callaway of Taylorville and Miss Anna Wiegand of this city, a sister of the bride.

The groom is the son of John A. Schnepf, former mayor of Springfield. He is a farmer by occupation and is highly regarded by all who know him. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wiegand. She was born in this city and has spent all her life here. She graduated from the Lutheran parochial school and from the Jacksonville high school. Afterward she entered the office of President Harker of Illinois Woman's College and was for a number of years President of the college. She is a member of Salem Lutheran church, a member of the choir and of Luther Walthers circle. She has been a teacher in the Sunday school and has been active in church work in all its phases. A charm of manner has won for her many friends who will unite in wishing her many years of wedded happiness.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a brief wedding trip after which they will be at home on a farm near Shattuck.

Edwards-Cooper. Henry David Edwards and Mrs. Maggie Coope were united in marriage at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Henry Truex, 609 East Independence avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The ceremony was said by the Rev. A. A. Todd, pastor of First Baptist church. The bride is the daughter of John Admore and formerly resided in Kentucky. The groom is the son of the late John Edwards and is a farmer by occupation. He has resided in this vicinity all his life and is highly regarded by those who know him.

FARM NOTES

Plants Big Wheat Acreage.

F. J. Blackburn, who will operate Julius Strawn estate lands for the next two years, yesterday completed the task of planting about 475 acres of wheat. Mr. Blackburn has had a large force of men busy at this work for several weeks past. Most of the ground was in oats the past summer and it was necessary, therefore, to plow the oat stubble for the wheat sowing. After the land was plowed it was harrowed and rolled before the wheat seed was drilled in.

Wheat of the Turkey red variety was used for seed, as experience in this county with that class of seed has been the most satisfactory. A tractor was used for plowing in addition to 20 head of horses and on some of the acreage a steam engine was used to pull an 8 bottom plow.

Only 3 more days to do your Christmas shopping for the soldiers in France. Hurry with those Christmas bags.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Some Old Citizens
By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

The younger people, those under fifty years of age, to say nothing of "kids" like Ed. Crabtree missed a good deal in not knowing, or knowing about, some of the people before or after the War.

Paul Selby was one of these, he came here from Ohio, and, after attending Illinois College a while, took over the "Morgan Journal" about 1853 or '54, and ran it until 1858. He was a very pronounced Republican, and one of the leaders in forming that party in Illinois. He went to Louisiana, just before the War, to teach "and came back quicker than he went" as soon as the war began—his neck being the thing he was caring for just then, owing to his "Black Republican" politics.

He went to Minneapolis, Minn., for a time—or perhaps St. Paul, in newspaper work, then to Springfield, on the "State Journal," and perhaps to Chicago on the "Republican," the predecessor of the "Inter-Ocean," before going to Springfield. He was on the "Quincy Whig," then went back in 1878 as an editorial proprietor of the "State Journal," continuing some years, after which he went again to Chicago, and wrote some until his death a few years ago.

J. R. Bailey of the "Sentinel" was Mr. Selby's political opponent in those days before the War, and they abused each other "for all they were worth." Mr. Bailey was a Pennsylvanian, came out to Mt. Sterling where he had a paper, and came here about 1855. He ran his weekly until about 1872 when it was passed into other hands and was the beginning of the "Courier."

Augustus Fay was one of Mr. Bailey's types, and his brother, Wm. L. Fay probably began "sticking type" for Mr. Bailey.

Mrs. J. H. Hackett was a daughter of Mr. Bailey. He became nearly blind latterly, and died about thirty years ago.

Col. Geo. P. Smith was another newspaper man, who drifted in here during the war, after being colonel of the 129th Ill. Reg't. for a short time. Smith and Jos. J. Ironmonger started the "Daily Journal" in 1866. Smith sold out to Chapin & Glover in 1869, and disappeared into Kansas.

He was a native of Virginia state, and a good writer and speaker.

Willis Catlin was engaged for years in the kindred business of book selling on the north side of the square, about where the Jacksonville National Bank was last. Mr. Catlin was burned out, and moved into the west room under Strawn's Hall.

Mr. Catlin was a native of Connecticut, and came here at an early day. He was the father of Miss Margaret Catlin, so well known in charitable work. The Catlins were attendants of the old First Presbyterian church.

Willis Catlin was a brother of Joel Catlin, father of Capt. C. A. Catlin. Mrs. Jeremiah Pierson was a daughter of Joel Catlin.

The Rev. W. D. R. Trotter was a well known Methodist minister, who lived nearly opposite the School for the Blind for many years. His daughter, Mrs. Caldwell, who taught so long in our public schools, is still here. Mr. Trotter was one time member of the Board of Education.

Thos. W. Melindy was long well known here, living on the Kreider lot, just west of Scott Block on West State St. Mr. Melindy had two daughters who taught a primary, private school, in a little building on their father's lot, for years.

A Coterie of Cronies was S. Reynolds King, bachelor; John Hockenull, bachelor and Horace Bancroft, then a widower. They used to have stores on the Square, where some or all of them slept, and they would have hot supper at night, and were experts on good things to eat.

"Reynolds" King married late in life, as did John Hockenull, but Horace Bancroft soon broke away from them, and brought a beautiful bride here, from the east, and she still lives.

Geo. C. Scott was another friend of the three last named. He kept a store on the north side of the Square, where Tomlinson is now. He was a very handsome man, a native of Pennsylvania, to which state he went back and spent his last days. Mr. Scott never married.

King, Hockenull and Bancroft were also good looking and pleasant men.

J. B. C. Smith used to keep a dry goods store, last where Harmon's has been—on the east side of the Square—and had a bee-hive as a sign. So he was known both as "Alphabet" and "Beehive" Smith. He came from Ohio, probably, and was a brother-in-law of Col. Wm. D. Crowell.

Forgotten Lawyers Jacksonville was like many other places in having a procession of lawyers, who came and went. Among them were J. W. Strong; H. J. Atkins, who died here E.; M. Sanford; F. B. Hackett brother of J. M.; Capt. E. B. Breilly, afterwards of Colorado, and James M. Epier, still living in Seattle, Washington. Of course there were others, besides Edward Dun and John G. Morrison, not now recalled by the writer.

Among Singers or teachers of music were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hillis, teachers and singers; Miss Hattie Gibbs, niece of Prof. W. D. Sanders; Prof. H. Stranchner of the Blind; Prof. Wimmerst of the Blind, who afterwards married Miss Marion Phillips, voice teacher, and Prof. Ramsey, a blind man, who sang and taught. These were all in professional work.

The list of men and women, amateur players or singers of merit, who have lived here is too long to attempt to recall.

"So the multitude comes, and the multitude goes."

Lincoln to John Mathers

The above quotation from the poem loved by Lincoln, and mistakenly attributed to him, reminds one of some lines he did write, in which was this verse:

"Where many were but few remain
Of old familiar things;
But seeing them, to mind again
The lost and absent brings."

In this connection the following letter from Lincoln to John Mathers may also be quoted: "Springfield, July 20, 1858. My dear Sir: Your kind and interesting letter of the 19th was duly received. Your suggestions as to placing one's self on the offensive rather than the defensive are certainly correct. That is a point which I shall not disregard. I spoke here Saturday night. The speech, not very well reported, appears in the State Journal of this morning. You doubtless will see it; and I hope that you will perceive in it, that I am already improving. I would mail you a copy now, but I have not one at hand. I thank you for your letter, and shall be pleased to hear from you again. Yours very truly, A. Lincoln."

MISS CAPT'S ADDRESSED

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS.

Domestic science pupils at the high school held a successful sand-wich sale there Wednesday morning.

The girls sold more than 300 sandwiches in a few minutes' time and could have disposed of a great many more if the supply had been larger.

Miss Louise Camps made a brief talk at the morning assembly along the line of sending Christmas gifts to the soldiers. She urged the students to aid in the supply of articles, which the not necessarily expensive would be appreciated by the men.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank the neighbors and friends who assisted us so kindly in our sorrow for their love and sympathy expressed, also for the many beautiful floral offerings.

LAST MEN TO CAMP PASS EXAMINATIONS

Physical Tests Came After Long Hike—Francis Rantz Makes Report to Local Board.

Hugh P. Green, adjutant for the local board of Morgan county, yesterday received a letter from Francis R. Rantz, who as orderly was in command of the last increment of Morgan county soldiers sent to Camp Taylor. Mr. Rantz wrote that the men arrived at camp in good form altho the train was two hours and a half late.

When the party of soldiers left for Camp Taylor several weeks since each man was provided with two meal tickets but they had a chance to use only one ticket each. This time the board gave each man one ticket and wired to the Harvey lunch room at East St. Louis to provide a box lunch for each man in addition to serving supper. This plan worked out nicely for the men and Mr. Rantz said that otherwise they would have been compelled to reach camp without breakfast.

Albert Curry and Paul Wells, who went to Louisville in advance of the increment, by permission of the local board, joined the other men just as they were going thru the chutes into the encampment.

Twenty four men were taken on the Jacksonville car at Jerseyville and this made it rather crowded but the men all made the best of the situation and were in good spirits when they reached Camp Taylor even if they were somewhat worn out thru lack of sleep.

The first night they were assigned to barracks without window sash and naturally found it uncomfortably cool there. The day following they were transferred to more comfortable surroundings. At the time Mr. Rantz wrote the men had not been definitely assigned altho it is known that they will be a part of sanitary train No. 309 and the number of their ambulance corps will be made known very soon.

Monday after going on a six mile hike all of the men were given the physical examination, were inoculated for typhoid fever and vaccinated. The three men from other states who reported here and were sent to Camp Taylor by the local board, Henry Miller of California, Ernest M. Henry of California and Clarence Cunningham of Montana, were all passed and will be assigned to duty in the same corps as the Morgan county men.

Actual Service Gives Leadership To Firestone SUPER CORD TIRES

THE leadership of the Firestone Super Cord has been won solely on construction producing unequalled strength, durability and flexible action. The body is built of walls of stout cord. Each cord imbedded in pure gum, no two cords ever touching to cause friction. The cushion (which is under tread to absorb shocks) is a thick layer of pure gum. The tread is tough and thick. The beads which hold the tire to the rim are specially reinforced. The side wall is also reinforced, giving extra strength against rim-cut, and raising bending point safely high. Users of Firestone Cord Tires are getting the highest average mileage enjoyed by car owners.

That motorists find extra values in Firestone Tires is proved by the fact that our sales increased 72 per cent this year up to Sept. 1st. Our total business this year will exceed $60,000,000.

New York National turned desperate on the Chicago Americans in the third game of the world series here today and shutout their rivals 2 to 0.

As was the case in the first contest in Chicago, the struggle developed into a pitchers' battle, but today it was Eddie Cicotte who was forced to bow before the prowess of the opposing hurler and the sweeping bats of the Giants. Pitted against Rube Benton, the star of the White Sox hurling corps found a rival as skillful as he in delivery, as crafty in generalship, and who refused to allow Cicotte's teammates a run to ease the strain. Only six of the visitors reached first, five on hits and one on a fielder's choice and of these only two saw second base. Behind Benton the Giants played with a dash and brilliancy which were missing in the two preceding games. Despite Cicotte's fine control and deceptive curves they smashed into the delivery of the White Sox pitching star in the fourth inning and hammered out the two runs, which spelled victory, and restored their confidence for the contests to come.

After the game the Nationals expressed the belief that they would be able to repeat tomorrow and start westward on Thursday night on even terms with their American League opponents for the fifth game of the series set for Saturday in Chicago.

Among the fans tonight the name of Davis Robertson of Norfolk, Va., is praised in equal proportions with that of Rube Benton, hailing from Clinton, N. C. Between them these two diamond combatants brought about the downfall of the Chicago combination when the outlook for a break in the series of defeats was none too bright. For three and a half innings the opposing box men had proved invincible and the thirty odd thousand fans present were settling down for a hurling duel when Robertson sprang into the calculation of fame. He ended the White Sox fourth inning attempt to penetrate the pitching of Benton with a great running catch of Gandil's long sizzling drive to right field when he hurled himself against the concrete wall of the grandstand and plucked the ball with one hand just as it was about to strike the wall. Had he missed the catch Gandil's smash would have gone for at least a two-base hit. But Robertson was not done. The Norfolk player doffed his fielder's glove and stepping into the batter's box picked one of Cicotte's sharp breaking low balls and drove high and far into right center. The sphere sailed upward and onward, until it seemed certain that it would equal Felsch's home run drive of the opening game. Both Jackson and Felsch raced frantically after the ball but it hit the bleacher fence and bounded away from their clutches. Robertson was sliding into third base when the ball was returned to the infield.

Holke followed with a two base drive to left field scoring Robertson. Catcher Rariden, playing in place of McCarty, who was injured in the second battle at Chicago, advanced his teammate to third with a sacrifice. Cicotte to Gandil. Benton could not fathom Cicotte's curves and struckout.

Burns hit a puzzling slow grounder toward third which scored Holke, who was half way to the plate when the bat met the ball. Cicotte finally captured the sphere and tried to get Burns at first, but his throw was wild and the batter continued on to second. With Herzog at bat the

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poisoning are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.—Adv.

25 CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair! Make It Thick, Wavy and Beautiful—Try It!

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few week's use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Adv.

crowds were rooting strenuously for a continuance of the hitting but Gandil checked the rally with a wonderful running catch of the Giant's field captain's foul, which he sphered one-handed as the ball was about to disappear among the spectators in one of the ground row of field boxes. That was the end of the run making for the day for after that spectacular inning both Cicotte and Benton pitched well-nigh perfect ball. While both teams got runners on the bases the hits to bring them home never were forthcoming.

As was the case on Saturday, the winning pitcher was forced to deliver more balls than his defeated rival. Benton today pitched a total of 105 balls to Cicotte's 97, just as Cicotte in his victorious game hurled 101 to Sallee's 85. During the nine innings which Benton pitched the Giants' grandeur hurled 26 strikes, 38 balls, 14 foulstrikes, the White Sox made five hits, drove out 21 field outs and fouled three balls.

Cicotte, pitching 97 times, secured 27 strikes, 13 foulstrikes, gave 26 balls and was fouled five times. The Giants reached him for eight hits; went out sixteen times on fielding plays, and J. Collins' two errors on Kauff's drives account for the remainder.

While there was little of any advantage between the two pitchers it appeared to many as the Benton had more on the ball than Cicotte. His delivery came up with wide, sweeping curves or broke with almost right angle slants, which had the White Sox missing or popping up most of the time. The Chicago twirler varied his pitching to a greater extent than Benton and his control was as perfect as usual. To those who saw him work in the first contest it appeared as though he did not have as sharp a curve or break as on Saturday, when he turned back the Giants with seven hits and one run. His record today was eight hits and two runs, while Benton let the White Sox down with five hits, no two coming in one inning.

Cicotte fanned eight Giants to Benton five. Burns, Holke and Benton all fell twice before the Chicago hurler's slants while Benton's only double strikeout victim was Cicotte. The New York team had twice as many runners stranded on the bases as the White Sox, the count being 8 to 4. Robertson led all the players with three hits in four times at bat for a total of five bases, while of Chicago's five hits Eddie Collins and Weaver each secured two. Neither Kauff nor Jackson had a fielding chance and Robertson stole the only base purloined. Neither pitcher gave a base on balls and none of the five errors contributed in any way to the score. The total attendance was 33,616 and the receipts $73,081. Of this amount the players received $39,463.74; each club $13,154.58 and the National Commission $7,308.10.

CHAPIN TAKES FINAL GAME FROM ALL STARS 7 TO 2.

Chapin took the final game from the Jacksonville All Stars by the lopsided score of 7 to 2, making a clean sweep of the series. E. McDaniel was a little unsteady but was effective in the pinches and kept the Jacksonville hits well scattered. Stirling pitched consistent ball until the eighth inning when he was clouted for four runs.

Chapin scored two runs in the first inning. E. McDaniel, third man up hit safely, stole second and tallied when Rigor poled a long fly into deep center field which proved to be a home run.

Duncan counted in the third for Jacksonville on a hit by Wheeler and a sacrifice by Ware. He scored Jacksonville's other run in the fifth on a two base hit and sacrifice by Waple and G. Wheeler. E. McDaniel scored one run in the third. Reams started a batting rally for Chapin in the eighth by knocking a home run and was followed with hits by O. McDaniel and A. McDaniel which netted the Chapin boys four more runs.

Give it in Time

Every mother knows that coughs and colds, neglected, may lead to the most dread diseases. Croup, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption often begin their beginning in a slight cold.

The wise mother gives Foley's Honey and Tar at the first signs of a cough or cold. She knows it stops coughs quickly, puts a soothing, healing coating on an inflamed and tickling throat, and gives a feeling of warmth and comfort to the sufferer.

Mrs. M. E. Schlarb, Ashland, Penn., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough and cold remedy I have ever tried. When my little girl gets a cold on her chest, I give her a few doses, and it relieves her right away."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

MEN IN U. S. NAVY ARE WELL FED

Battleships Faring Forth to Sea Carry Vast Quantities of Provisions—Food is Nourishing and Appetizing.

Washington, Oct. 10.—In these days of the H. C. L. it is to be doubted if any class of men in the United States fares better as regards food than the men in Uncle Sam's navy. Recently a high official of the Navy Department paying an informal visit of inspection to an American battleship happened to drop in on the sailors while they were at mess. Asking one of the jacksies at table if he was satisfied with his food, he was much amused on receiving the quick reply, "Sure, it's better than I had at home."

When one of Uncle Sam's battleships fares forth to sea she carries in her hold provisions sufficient, it would seem, to feed an army. In her capacious refrigerators may be seen hundreds of quarters of the choicest beef, which later will make its appearance on Jack's table. The flour the ship carries is counted literally in thousands of sacks, which will be converted in the ship's steam bakeries into bread of excellent quality and freshness.

Of potatoes there may be many tons, supplemented by vast quantities of other vegetables. Casks of salt pork and small mountains of corned beef will be in the larder—to fall back on, owing to a prolonged voyage, fresh meat should run short.

Sugar, coffee and tea sufficient to stock scores of shops will be there. In the dry provision hold may be found, in addition to canned foods, enormous quantities of raisins and currants, preserves and jam. Thousands of tins of condensed milk, vast quantities of baked beans and canned soups are stored away.

Such are the principal contents of a warship's larder, over which the paymaster presides as ship's housekeeper, seeing that every man aboard has an ample supply of good, nourishing, and appetizing food. If Jack demands luxuries not on the regular menu, he has the canteen ready to supply him in exchange for his cash.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS

OF CARDBOARD

Paris, Oct. 10.—A cardboard leg which enables the wearer to go about without crutches two days after his limb has been amputated is an invention that has been tried out successfully in the military hospitals in Paris. The artificial limb was devised by a Danish surgeon now in the medical service of the French army. The materials used are two sheets of cardboard three-sixteenths of an inch thick, and bandages soaked in a starch solution. After careful measurements have been taken the cardboard is cut into what looks like two peg-tops, which after being soaked in the bath fold around each other and are secured with bandages. He can wear the artificial leg long before the wound is healed and is thus enabled to get air and exercise, which it is usually impossible to obtain at this phase of his convalescence. The cardboard leg, properly treated, lasts from six months to a year, by which time a permanent artificial limb is ready to be fitted.

ANNIVERSARY OF CUBAN REVOLUTION

Havana, Oct. 10.—The forty-ninth anniversary of the beginning of the ten years' war (1868-1878) was observed today as a general holiday. The action of the Government in taking sides with the Allies against Germany, which action met with the heartiest approval of the masses, resulted in the patriotic holiday being observed with more than the usual amount of enthusiasm. Patriotic mass meetings were held in Havana and elsewhere thruout the republic.

ARTHUR REEVE MAKES SPECIALTY OF HOGS

Intends to Keep Only Thoroughbred Duroc Reds—Recently Constructed Improved Hog House—Is Owner of 80 Acres West of City.

A Journal reporter had the pleasure recently of a visit with his valued friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeve who are now located a few miles west of the city. Mr. Reeve bought the farm of eighty acres last spring and has a very pleasant home, a good house, well furnished and supplied with many of the conveniences of life. In addition to his own land he rented sixty acres of corn ground so that he has a crop of 85 acres in all and it promises well. A part of his farm is rolling and well adapted to stock raising while he has some fine bottom land in addition.

One thing about the place was especially noticeable and that was the fact that the young man houses his vehicles and implements. He seems to think that lumber and shingles are cheaper than wagons, plows, reapers and similar articles and he appears to have the right idea regarding the matter. He also believes that time is money and horseflesh valuable and worth saving so he has an automobile for traveling and is able to get over the ground right lively.

The visitor found him constructing an improved hog house 24 by 60 feet. He was filling the interior with yellow clay which he prefers for a floor to concrete tho thru the center and at each end he will have concrete. He expects to have sixteen pens for brood sows and two larger ones at the end for feeding and will have his dipping tank at one end.

Feeds Mixture Called Pig Chow.

Mr. Reeve makes a specialty of hogs and for a time has been crossing Chester Whites with Red Durocs and has 125 shoats farrowed mostly in April and which will average a hundred pounds each and are beauties. He has been feeding them a feed he calls pig chow and it is a ground mixture of alfalfa, charcoal and some other materials and is eagerly devoured by the young porkers. He has sheet iron self feeders for it so that none is wasted as feed is too high now to be scattered on the ground. He also has smaller self feeders in which he places salt, copperas and other useful material and his shoats are as healthy as one could ask. He has been lately cutting new corn and hauling fodder and all to the feed lot and the hogs do finely on it. He is careful to give his hogs pure, clear water to drink and keeps them healthy.

He is going to try thoroughbred Duroc Reds now and for that purpose has bought ten handsome gilts and a young boar and will stand a good chance of having a fine lot of pigs later on. He will not breed any of the crosses as that is not a good idea. He also has a number of older sows which he values highly.

Uses Tankage For Fattening.

When he begins to feed for fattening he places the hogs in smaller quarters so they can't run off the fat they put on. He also feeds some tankage for he says bare corn and water will not fatten profitably. He used to get tankage at forty dollars a ton but now it is $85.00 but at the price of pork it will pay all right. Mr. Reeve's hogs have not been troubled with cholera but once and is careful to give them such treatment that they will escape it.

One of the first things Mr. Reeve hopes to have is a good silo for he says he could easily winter a load of cattle on it and pasture them in the summer at good profit. He thinks well of saving all the feed of the place and carefully looks after the fertility of his land.

He has a good start in chicken, ducks and geese tho these are side issues with him and he gives them small attention as other things pay him better. He has an interesting family; three little folks fit to make the eyes of an old bachelor turn green with envy. Soon he will have two sturdy boys following the plow and feeding the hogs and making themselves generally useful.

PREPARE FOR INSPECTION OF BURLINGTON WAY

As previously mentioned, a rainbow fleet of Comet automobiles will be the cars used for the Dixie sociability and inspection run of the Burlington Way. The itinerary for this run gives Jacksonville as the starting point Monday, Oct. 15, at 7:30 a. m., and the last city visited on the going trip will be Concord, Mass., which the travelers will reach at noon Friday, Oct. 19. A card received yesterday by Carl H. Weber, president of the association, from W. H. Holstein of Burlington, an officer of the Burlington Way association, mentioned that a party from Burlington will reach Jacksonville Sunday afternoon or evening to be in readiness for the trip which is to begin the day following. Mr. Weber has named D. A. Schaffnit of this city, who is a representative of the Comet Automobile Co., as chairman of the local reception committee.

SOME FINE CORN

J. P. and G. W. Stice have at the Elliott State bank some remarkably large corn. One ear is sixteen inches long and two others are nearly as long and are larger in diameter. The ears have excited considerable comment among farmers.

CASE CONTINUED.

JAMES E. MOY DIES FROM INJURIES

Sightless Man is Struck Down Sunday Morning by Automobile Driven by Dr. Arthur E. Prince—Had Been Sightless Since He Was Nine Years Old—Inquest Will be Held Friday.

James E. Moy died at Our Savior's hospital Wednesday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock from injuries received Sunday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Arthur E. Prince of Springfield.

Moy had several ribs fractured and torn loose from the spine, his right arm broken, pelvis bone fractured and internal injuries. The attending physician was of the opinion that there was a fracture of the lower part of the spine. Little hope was given from the first of his recovery and it seemed remarkable that he lived so long after the accident.

Deceased was the son of Edward and Bridget Moy and was born in Alexander 61 years ago and had always resided in this county. When he was nine years of age he was stricken with blindness as the result of being struck in the eye by a iron-wood burr thrown by a playmate. The eye became infected and it spread to the other eye causing total blindness.

Despite the handicap of blindness Mr. Moy could go into a field and do considerable work. He also was able to go any place he desired and with as much accuracy as a person with good sight.

He is survived by one brother, Daniel Moy, residing east of the city and one sister, Mrs. Mary Novius of Los Angeles, Calif. He also leaves the following nieces and nephews: Mrs. Grace Kuntle of New Berlin, Miss Alice Moy of Springfield, Francis and Audrey Moy of this county.

The remains were taken to the undertaking parlors of John H. O'Donnell and prepared for burial. They will be taken to the residence of Jerry Clancy of South Clay avenue this afternoon. Funeral services will be held from the Church of Our Savior Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Coroner Rose was notified of Moy's death and will empanel a jury and hold an inquest. The time of the inquest will not be set until it is found when Dr. Prince will be able to attend.

FAMOUS LECTURER COMING TO THIS CITY

Dr. Charles T. Baylis Will Speak at Central Christian Church Wednesday Night—Will Tell Experiences on European Battle Fields.

Dr. Charles T. Baylis, famous as a writer and traveler, will come to Jacksonville next Wednesday, Oct. 17, and make an address at Central Christian church. Dr. Baylis is now making a speaking tour thru Illinois under the direction of the Illinois state council of defense. A telegram was received recently by John J. Reeve as president of the Chamber of Commerce from Harold Ickes of the state council of defense, stating that the council was anxious to have Dr. Baylis speak in this city Oct. 17 and asking that arrangements be made. Mr. Reeve wired at once that Jacksonville people would be greatly pleased to arrange for such a lecture. The matter was taken up with the proper authorities and Central Christian church was secured. Dr. Baylis, speaking under direction of the state council of defense, is really a representative of the government and his mission now is to acquaint people more intimately with some war conditions. He has been on the battlefields of Europe and tells the story of what he has seen there in a remarkably graphic and eloquent way.

It goes without saying that admission will be free to this lecture and the people of Jacksonville can expect a thoroughly patriotic and informing address.

Dr. Baylis, who is a resident of New York, is not new to the lecture platform and has been heard with great pleasure by many audiences, especially in eastern and southern states. He has often appeared on Chautauqua platforms. No better idea of his popularity can be given than by quoting some press comment made on lectures during the past year.

Press Comment.

Dr. Charles T. Baylis lectured before the Men's Association of the First Reformed Church, and easily won his way into the affection and appreciation of the audience. He was both witty and wise, and displayed rare art in mingling both, to the delight of everyone.—Brooklyn Eagle, Brooklyn, N. Y.

One of the largest gatherings of recent years of the famous Boston Club was the one held in the large banquet room of the Parker House, and the speaker was a new one to a Boston audience, or nearly strange. Dr. Charles T. Baylis of Chautauqua fame was the guest of honor, and he delighted his audience with his new lecture, "The Twentieth Century Renaissance." The speaker kept his audience in gales of laughter with his witty sayings, and at the same time kept them on tip-toe as he led them thru new fields of thought. It was a great audience, a great theme, and a most inspiring lecturer.—Herald, Boston.

Dr. Baylis, the distinguished Chautauqua lecturer, addressed an audience that completely filled Massey Hall and delivered one of the most inspiring addresses ever heard in this city. He has a voice of rare quality and his hold on the great audience was never lost for a single moment. He is a platform orator of great strength.—Daily Mail, Toronto.

He captivated his audience, and moved them from smiles to tears at will, or as the wind plays with a reed.—Chicago Times-Herald.
